

Mothers Prayer

Heavenly Father,

I come before You today with gratitude for the precious gift of my children. As a mother, I seek Your guidance and Your blessings upon them, knowing that You hold their futures in Your hands.

Lord, I pray that You would surround my children with Your love and protection, guarding them from harm and leading them in the paths of righteousness. Your Word says in Proverbs 22:6, 'Train up a child in the way he should go, And when he is old he will not depart from it.' Help me to instill Your wisdom and values in them, that they may walk faithfully in Your ways all the days of their lives.

I pray for their spiritual growth and that they may develop a deep and personal relationship with You. May they come to know You as their Saviour and Lord, and may Your Word dwell richly in their hearts. Psalm 119:105 says, 'Your word is a lamp to my feet And a light to my path.' Let Your Word be their guide, illuminating their way and giving them discernment in all they do.

Father, I lift up their physical and emotional well-being to You. May they be healthy and strong, and may Your peace guard their hearts and minds in Christ Jesus (Philippians 4:7). Comfort them in times of trouble and fill them with Your joy that surpasses all understanding.

I also pray for their relationships, both with You and with others. Help them to love You with all their heart, soul, and mind, and to love their neighbours as themselves (Matthew 22:37-39). May they be a blessing to those around them, showing kindness, compassion, and forgiveness.

Lord, I commit my children into Your hands, knowing that You love them even more than I do. May Your will be done in their lives, and may they bring glory to Your name in all they do.

In Jesus' name, Amen.
